Master Class in Brief Psychotherapy Lead by Jeff Zeig & Julie Anné

Experienced, licensed psychotherapists are invited to attend a four-day supervision workshop to greatly enhance their skills and promote both personal and professional growth.

The program is based on expert modeling and direct feedback of attendee's clinical work.

This intensive workshop is EXPERIENTIAL and is limited to twelve attendees.

Each attendee will assume four roles: two as patient; one as supervisor; and one as therapist with a peer.

Each participant will get an experience as a demonstration patient with Jeff and Julie, will rotate into the role of therapist for another attendee; be a patient with a personal issue you would like to work on (not a case); and work as a supervisor of the peer-therapy dyad. Drs Zeig and Anné supervise each trio.

The environment is intimate and supportive. The learning experience is rich and fertile. Although focused on Erickson-derived approaches, this program is an opportunity to advance clinical skills no matter what your professional orientation and level of experience.

The Master Class is a peerless opportunity for therapist growth and development.
